Al-Istirjâ (Imploring)

When the news of death in the family reaches the relatives and friends, the first thing that they should say is the following Qur'ânic verse (2:156): "Inna lil-lâhi wa innâ ilayhi râji'ûn [Truly! To Allâh we belong and truly, to Him we shall return]." This du'â is known in arabic as al-Istirjâ.

In the case of the husband or wife, they should add "Allâhumma ajirni fî museebati wakh-luf li khayran minhâ (or minhu if it is the wife saying it)." [O Allâh grant me refuge in my affliction and replace her (or him) with someone better]

Narrated Abu Dhar:

Allah's Apostle said, "Someone came to me from my Lord and gave me the news (or good tidings) that if any of my followers dies worshipping none (in any way) along with Allah, he will enter Paradise." I asked, "Even if he committed illegal sexual intercourse (adultery) and theft?" He replied, "Even if he committed illegal sexual intercourse (adultery) and theft."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 329:

Crying For Mercy at the Time of Death is Allowed

The Prophet shed tears, but did not cry out in a loud voice ...

Narrated Anas bin Malik:

We went with Allâh's Apostle to the blacksmith Abû Saif, and he was the husband of the wet-nurse of Ibrâhîm (the son of the Prophet). Allâh's Apostle took Ibrâhîm and kissed him and smelled him and later we entered Abû Saif's house and at that time Ibrâhîm was in his last breaths, and the eyes of Allâh's Apostle started shedding tears. 'Abdur-Rahmân bin 'Awf said, "O Allâh's Apostle, even you are weeping!" He said, "O Ibn 'Awf, this is mercy." Then he wept more and said, "The eyes are shedding tears and the heart is grieved, and we will not say except what pleases our Lord, O Ibrâhîm! Indeed we are grieved by your separation."

[Sahîh al-Bukhârî] Volume 2, Book 23, Number 390:

Words at the Time of Dying

Both Abû Sa'îd al-Khudrî and Abû Hurayrah quoted the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam as saying "Prompt your dying ones (to say): lâ ilâha illallâh."

[Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, #1996]

This statement does not simply mean that we should mention shahâdah, but the dying person should be instructed to say the shahâdah, as is evident from the Prophet's statement, "... whoever's last words are: lâ ilâhha illallâh ..."

Narrated 'Aisha:

I heard the Prophet and listened to him before his death while he was Lying supported on his back, and he was saying, "O Allah! Forgive me, and bestow Your Mercy on me, and let me meet the (highest) companions (of the Hereafter)." See the Qur'an (4.69) and See Hadith No. 719.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 5, Book 59, Number 715:

Narrated Aisha:

Whenever Allah's Apostle became ill, he used to recite the Muawidhatan (refuge surahs) and blow his breath over himself (after their recitation) and rubbed his hands over his body. So when he was afflicted with his fatal illness. I started reciting the Muawidhatan (refuge surahs) and blowing my breath over him as he used to blow and made the hand of the Prophet pass over his body.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 5, Book 59, Number 723:

Muslims are also encouraged to be present when non-Muslims are dying in order to present Islâm to them, in the hope that they will accept Islâm prior to their deaths. For the acceptance of Islâm at this point to be of any benefit, it must be based on knowledge, it must be expressed sincerely and with certainty, and it must take place before the actual throes of death begin.

Allâh's Messenger said, "I testify that there is no god worthy of worship but Allâh and that I am the Messenger of Allâh. Any servant who meets Allâh with those two {testimonies}, having no doubt in them, will enter Paradise." [Muslim, vol.1, p.20, #41, Narrated Abû Hurayrah]

This is to say that at the time of death the person should sincerely believe and in accordance with God's laws.

Good Words

People present may pray aloud for the one who is dying letting the person hear words of concern and sympathy. Negative words should be avoided this will only increase the difficulties the sick and dying are facing. Good words and positive thoughts will make the process of dying easier and recovery from illness more bearable ...

Umm Salamah related that the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam said, "If you are in the presence of a sick or dying person, you should say good things, for verily the angels say "Âmîn" to whatever you say." When Umm Salamah asked the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam what should she say, he replied: "Say: Allâhumma-ghfir lî wa lahu wa a'qibnî minhu'uqbâ hasanah [O Allâh forgive him and me, and grant me a good substitute after him.]"

[Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.436

Sûrah Yâsîn

The practice of specifically reading the 36th chapter of the Qur'ân, Sûrah Yâsîn, in the presence of the dying has no basis in the authentic Sunnah. Neither the Prophet nor his companions did it, or recommended that it be done. However, it does fall under the general heading of "good things" since Ya Sin is considered the heart of the Quran and speaks of the Hereafter.

Facing the Qiblah

Turning the body of one who is dying so that he or she faces the qiblah [Makkah] has no foundation in the practice of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam and his companions. The body should be turned to face Makkah when it is placed in the grave, according to the Prophets instructions. However at the time of dying there were no instructions. Turning the body became a custom after the time of the Prophets companions, but was objected to by the scholars of that time ... i.e. Sa'îd ibn al-Musayyib ibn Hazn (634-713CE), from the Madînite tribe of Makhzûm, who was one of the seven leading legal scholars of Madînah.

Acceptance of Fate

The dying individual is obliged to accept his lot gracefully so that it becomes a source of reward and blessing for him on the Day of Judgment. The Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam taught that patiently bearing the trials of this life is an act of righteousness which expiates sins.

Abdullâh stated that he visited Allâh's Messenger sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam while he was suffering from a high fever and said to him, "O Messenger Of Allâh, you have a high fever." He replied, "Yes, I have a fever equal to that of two of your men experience." I asked, "Is it because you will have double the reward?" He replied, "Yes, it is so. Any Muslim who is afflicted with the harm of a thorn prick or more will have, as a result of it, some of his sins expiated the way a tree sheds it's leaves."

[Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.7, p.374, #551 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.4, p.1364, #6235]

Between Fear and Hope

The dying person should be in a psychological state between fear and hope. The person should fear Allâh's punishment for his or her sins and, at the same time, hope for Allâh's mercy and forgiveness ...

"Do not lose hope of Allâh's mercy, for verily Allâh (can) forgive all sin."

[The Noble Qur'ân - az-Zumar 39:53]

The only exception to that rule is the sin of shirk, as it negates the very purpose of creation ...

"Say: O 'Ibâdî (My slaves) who have transgressed against themselves (by committing evil deeds and sins)! Despair not of the Mercy of Allâh, verily Allâh forgives all sins. Truly, He is Oft-Forgiving, Most Merciful." [The Noble Qur'ân - 4:48, see also 4:116]

Verily, Allâh forgives not that partners should be set up with him in worship, but He forgives except that (anything else) to whom He pleases, and whoever sets up partners with Allâh in worship, he has indeed invented a tremendous sin.

To Wish for Death

No matter how severe the pain of the sickness may become, one is not allowed to hope or wish for death. The death wish reflects a belief that Allâh has burdened one beyond his or her capacity and indicates a lack of patience. The longer people live, the more opportunity they have to do good and improve their lot ...

Anas quoted the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam as saying, "None of you should wish for death because of some harm which has afflicted him. But if one must do it, let him say: Allâhumma ahyinî mâ kânatil-hayâtu khayran lâ [O Allâh keep me alive as long as living is best for me] wa tawaffanî ithâ kânatil-wafâtu khayran lâ [and take my life if death is better for me]."

[al-Bukhârî, vol.7, p390, #575, Muslim, vol.4, p.1411, #6480 & 6485]

Debts

Dying individuals may have in their possession certain items belonging to others. If that is the case, they should return them as soon as they are able to do so, in order to avoid having to pay them back from their good deeds on the Day of Judgment.

Narrated Ibn 'Abbas:

A woman came to the Prophet and said, "My mother vowed to perform the Hajj but she died before performing it. Should I perform the Hajj on her behalf?" He said, "Yes! Perform the Hajj on her behalf. See, if your mother had been in debt, would you have paid her debt?" She said, "Yes." He said, "So you should pay what is for Him as Allah has more right that one should fulfill one's obligations to Him. "

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 9, Book 92, Number 418:

Wasîyah (The Will)

Before dying, everyone leaving behind wealth and property should write or dictate a will in which they may give away up to one-third of their wealth to those who would not inherit from them based on Islâmic inheritance laws.

This recommendation was instituted by Allâh to protect the rights of non-inheriting relatives and friends. Consequently the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam encouraged Muslims to record and keep it with them, as soon as the need arises.

Abdullâh ibn 'Umar related that the Messenger of Allâh sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam said, "It is not right for a Muslim who has something to bequeath to pass two nights without having it in writing in his possession ... " [Reported by ibn 'Umar and recorded in all of the six major books of hadîth ... Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.4, p1, #1, Sahîh Muslim, vol.3, p863, #3987 and Sunan Abû Dâwûd, vol.2, p.805, #2856]

According to Islâmic law, wealth obtained by wasîyah is not considered inheritance, but a gift. Under this law Muslims may leave a portion of their wealth to non-Muslim relatives and a Muslim may also receive a portion in a will from a non-Muslim relative, because it is considered a gift. Otherwise "A Muslim must not inherit from a disbeliever, nor should a disbeliever inherit from a Muslim." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.8, p.498, #756 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.3, p.852, #3928]

According to the system of Islâmic inheritance laws (farâ'id), non-Muslims are not classified as heirs to Muslims. Likewise, Muslims have no right to take portions of their dead non-Muslim relatives 'wealth allotted by non-Islâmic systems of inheritance.' (That is, if the deceased non-Muslim relative does not write a will (wasîyah) and the non-Muslim state divides up his / her wealth according to it's manmade laws, the Muslim relative is prohibited by Islâmic law to accept any share allotted to him / her by this process.)

After Death

Obligatory actions on those present: Once the person expires (passes away), the relatives and those present are obliged to perform particular services for him or her.

1. Closing the eyes and du'â (supplication)

The eyes of the dead person should be closed and some prayers should be made for him, based on the following hadîth of Umm Salamah:

Umm Salamah said, Allâh's Messenger sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam came in and found Abû Salamah's eyes staring. He closed them and said, "Verily when the soul is snatched, the eyes follow it." Some people from his family began to scream, so he said, "Only pray for good for yourselves, for verily the angels say 'Âmîn [So-be-it]' to whatever you say," He then prayed, saying:

Allâhummagh-fir li Abî Salamah warfa' darajatahû filmahdîyîn, [O Allâh, forgive Abû Salamah and raise his level among the rightly guided,] wakhlufhu fi 'aqibihî filghâbirîn.

[and let his remaining offspring be like him.]

waghfir lanâ walahû yâ Rabbal-Âlamîn
[Forgive us and forgive him, O Lord of all the worlds]

wafсах lahû fi qabrihî wa nawwir lahû fih.
[and expand his grave and illuminate it for him.]

[Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, pp.436-7, #2003]

2. Covering the body

A sheet of cloth large enough to cover the whole body of the deceased should be drawn over the whole body.

3. Hastening the burial

It is not permissible for Muslims to delay the burial in order for the maximum number of relatives to see the deceased, as is common practice among other communities. Once death is evident, the body should be prepared and taken out of the house for prayer and burial as soon as possible. In this way, contact with the dead body is minimized, which keeps the grief and hurt of seeing the dead down to a minimum. Abû Hurayrah related that the Prophet said "Hasten the funeral rites." [Collected in all six major books of hadîth. See: Sahîh Al-al-Bukhârî vol.2, p.225, #401; Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p448, #2059; Sunan Abû Dâwûd, vol.2, pp897-8, #3153; Sunan Ibn-i-Mâjah, vol.2, p.383, #1477; Mishkat Al-Masabih, vol.1, p338]

4. Locating the burial

Islam does not allow cremation of the body or embalming the body. The dead should be buried in the same area where they died. Transporting the body to another area or another country is not permissible if it will unnecessarily delay the burial or cause financial or other hardship.

5. Paying Off the Debts of the Deceased

All outstanding debts of the dead person should be repaid from the wealth that he or she left behind, even if it consumes all of the inheritance. If the dead person is without wealth or the inheritance was not sufficient to cover all of his or her debts, the Islâmic state will be responsible to repay the remainder, if the deceased person had made serious efforts to pay it.

Permissible Actions by Those Present

1. Uncovering the face and kissing it

Those present at the individual's death or those who come to see the dead person for the last time are allowed to uncover the face and kiss it. Kissing the face of the dead is considered a part of the Sunnah of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam and his companions.

Narrated Aisha and Ibn Abbas:

Abu Bakr kissed the Prophet after his death.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 5, Book 59, Number 734:

2. Crying

Those present and the relatives of the deceased are allowed to cry for a maximum period of three (3) days.

Narrated 'Abdullah bin 'Umar :

Sad bin 'Ubada became sick and the Prophet along with 'Abdur Rahman bin 'Auf, Sad bin Abi Waqqas and 'Abdullah bin Masud visited him to enquire about his health. When he came to him, he found him surrounded by his household and he asked, "Has he died?" They said, "No, O Allah's Apostle." The Prophet wept and when the people saw the weeping of Allah's Apostle (p.b.u.h) they all wept. He said, "Will you listen? Allah does not punish for shedding tears, nor for the grief of the heart but he punishes or bestows His Mercy because of this." He pointed to his tongue and added, "The deceased is punished for the wailing of his relatives over him." 'Umar used to beat with a stick and throw stones and put dust over the faces (of those who used to wail over the dead). Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 391:

Narrated Anas bin Malik:

We went with Allah's Apostle (p.b.u.h) to the blacksmith Abu Saif, and he was the husband of the wet-nurse of Ibrahim (the son of the Prophet). Allah's Apostle took Ibrahim and kissed him and smelled him and later we entered Abu Saif's house and at that time Ibrahim was in his last breaths, and the eyes of Allah's Apostle (p.b.u.h) started shedding tears. 'Abdur Rahman bin 'Auf said, "O Allah's Apostle, even you are weeping!" He said, "O Ibn 'Auf, this is mercy." Then he wept more and said, "The eyes are shedding tears and the heart is grieved, and we will not say except what pleases our Lord, O Ibrahim ! Indeed we are grieved by your separation."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 390:

Narrated 'Abdullah bin 'Ubaidullah bin Abi Mulaika:

One of the daughters of 'Uthman died at Mecca. We went to attend her funeral procession. Ibn 'Umar and Ibn Abbas were also present. I sat in between them (or said, I sat beside one of them. Then a man came and sat beside me.) 'Abdullah bin 'Umar said to 'Amr bin 'Uthman, "Will you not prohibit crying as Allah's Apostle has said, 'The dead person is tortured by the crying of his relatives.?' " Ibn Abbas said, "Umar used to say so." Then he added narrating, "I accompanied Umar on a journey from Mecca till we reached Al-Baida. There he saw some travelers in the shade of a Samura (A kind of forest tree). He said (to me), "Go and see who those travelers are." So I went and saw that one of them was Suhaib. I told this to 'Umar who then asked me to call him. So I went back to Suhaib and said to him, "Depart and follow the chief of the faithful believers." Later, when 'Umar was stabbed, Suhaib came in weeping and saying, "O my brother, O my friend!" (on this 'Umar said to him, "O Suhaib! Are you weeping for me while the Prophet said, "The dead person is punished by some of the weeping of his relatives?'" Ibn Abbas added, "When 'Umar died I told all this to Aisha and she said, 'May Allah be merciful to Umar. By Allah, Allah's Apostle did not say that a believer is punished by the weeping of his relatives. But he said, Allah increases the punishment of a non-believer because of the weeping of his relatives.'" Aisha further added, "The Quran is sufficient for you (to clear up this point) as Allah has stated: 'No burdened soul will bear another's burden.' " (35.18). Ibn Abbas then said, "Only Allah makes one laugh or cry." Ibn Umar did not say anything after that.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 375:

3. Patience

Narrated Anas:

The Prophet said, "The real patience is at the first stroke of a calamity."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 389:

Relatives of the deceased are obliged to be patient, practice self restraint, and gracefully accept Allâh's decree, because Allâh has already promised mankind that He would test them.

"Verily I will test you with fear and hunger, and loss of wealth, life, and the fruit (of your labour), so give glad tidings to the patient ones." [The Noble Qur'ân 2:155]

However, true patience for which Allâh, subhanahu wa ta'ala, promises reward is that which is practiced when calamity first strikes. The real test of patience is at the time of the calamity; being patient after the initial shock and reaction have worn off is not considered real patience.

Al-Hidâd (Mourning)

Women are required to avoid all forms of beautification as a sign of mourning for their husbands, children or relatives. This does not contradict the recommendations for patience, as long as the mourning does not exceed three days for her child or relative and four months and ten days for her husband.

Umm 'Atîyah said, "We were forbidden to mourn for more than three days for a dead person, except for a husband, in which case a woman should mourn for four months and ten days [during this period] we were not allowed to wear kohl on our eyes, nor perfume ourselves, nor wear colored clothes, except 'asab cloth. It was permissible for us at the time of bathing at the end of menses to use a small amount of incense."

[al-Bukhârî, vol.7, pp.193-4, # 254 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.778, #3552]

Forbidden Actions by Those Present

1. Wailing

The Prophet strictly forbade wailing, screaming and hiring of mourners. Furthermore, he identified such practices as acts of kufr (disbelief), because they indicate displeasure with what Allâh has decreed. Îmân (faith) includes the belief that Allâh is the source of all good and that all of His actions are wise. Proper îmân would never allow those who possess it to commit such acts of ignorance.

Abû Hurayrah narrated that the Prophet said, "There are two practices found among people, both of which indicate disbelief: ridiculing the ancestry (of others) and wailing over the dead." [Muslim, vol.1, p.44, #128]

"Verily the dead are punished in their graves by the wailing of their family over them." [al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.213, #379; Muslim, vol.2, p.439, #2015]

The Prophet said, "The deceased who is wailed over is tortured for that wailing." [al-Bukhârî 2.378, Narrated Al-Mughira]

The dead will suffer due to the wailing of relatives in two cases: (a) When the deceased requested wailing prior to his death. (b) If the deceased knew that it was the custom of his people and he did not request that they not do so over him.

The Prophet said, "He who slaps the cheeks, tears the clothes and follows the tradition of the Days of Ignorance is not from us." [al-Bukhârî 2.385, Narrated Abdullâh]

2. Striking Cheeks and Tearing of Clothes

At the time of the Prophet , the practice in Arabia for women in mourning was to slap or scratch their cheeks and to rip their clothes. These acts were strictly forbidden, as well as similar practices which involved self-punishment and the destruction of material wealth. These practices all heighten the pain and sorrow that accompany death, while Islâm seeks to minimize it.

Ibn Mas'ûd reported that the Prophet said, "Whoever slaps his face, tears his clothes, or invites (others) to an un-Islâmic slogan is not of us." [Collected by al-Bukhârî, Muslim, Ibn Mâjah and al-Bayhaqî; al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.216, #385; Sahîh Muslim, vol.1, p.59, #184]

There are things that contradict sabr. Tearing ones shirt, for example, slapping ones face, slapping hands, shaving ones head, and cursing and wailing. Umm Salamah radi Allahu anha narrates that she heard the Messenger of Allah sal Allahu alayhi wa sallam say:

"Any Muslim who says when a calamity befalls him that which Allah commanded him: 'To Allah we belong and to him we return. O Allah reward me in this calamity and give me better than it' - Allah will grant him better than (that which he lost) (Muslim)."

5. These tests and hardships wash away our sins. Aisha radi Allahu anha said, "Verily, fever sheds sins like a tree sheds leaves."

6. The hardships that befall us distinguish the believers from the insincere. Shumayt ibn Ajlaan said, "The pious and the ungrateful are hidden by health. Yet when calamities befall, the two men are separated (by how they react)."

Allah 'azza wa jall says in the Quran:

Alif laam meem. Do people think that they will be left alone because they say, "We believe," and will not be tested? Indeed We tested those who (lived) before them (Al-Ankaboot 29/1-3).

3. Shaving the Head or Disheveling the Hair

In Islâm, women are required to shun various forms of beautification in order to avoid attracting other men during their period of mourning, since contracting marriage during this time is forbidden. However, shaving the head and disheveling the hair is prohibited, as these acts go beyond normal bounds and are associated with pre-Islâmic concepts. [al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.215, #383; Muslim, vol.1, p.59, nos.186-7]

4. Announcing Someone's Death

A general announcement is allowed, based on the Prophet's practice.

5. Gathering to Give Condolences

The custom of organizing gatherings in the home, at the grave or in the Masjid to give condolences to the family of the deceased is against the Sunnah of the companions of the Prophet.

6. Preparing Food by the Family of the Deceased

There is no obligation placed on the family of the deceased. The Prophet's sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam explicit instructions to relatives, friends and neighbours is to send food to the bereaved family. [al-Bukhârî, vol.7, p.401, #593; Muslim, vol.4, p.1202, #5491. Collected by at-Tirmidhî, Abû Dâwûd and ibn Mâjah (Sunan Ibn Mâjah, vol.2, p.455, #1610) and authenticated in Sahîh Sunan Ibn Mâjah, vol.1, p.268, #1306]

Recommended Actions by Those Present

It was the practice of the Prophet to have his family prepare food for the relatives of the dead. **

People later elaborated on this practice until it became an exaggerated ritual with much pomp and show. Later scholars considered its distorted form an innovation and abandoned it. [Sunan Ibn-i-Mâjah, vol.2, p.455, #1610]

Testifying to the Good of the Dead

It is recommended that righteous Muslims who knew the deceased well and were among his or her neighbors should testify to others about the good qualities of the deceased.

Anas quote the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam as saying, "For any Muslim who dies and four of his close neighbors testify that they have known him to be good, Allâh-the Blessed, the Highest-will say, 'I have accepted your testimony and forgiven him for what you do not know about.'"

[Collected by Ahmad and authenticated in Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, pp.45-66]

Preparing the Body

The persons preparing the body of deceased should take precautions and wear protective clothing, gloves, and a mask, which covers the mouth and nose. Most funeral parlors will provide you with this protective gear which covers you from head to toe. This procedure will protect the preparer from possible contamination from the deceased. As a general practice I always inquire about the medical history of the deceased especially if they are not a family member.

There should be no delay in preparing the body, i.e. washing, shrouding, and burial of the deceased, supported by the Prophets instruction, "Hasten the funeral rites." [Collected in all six books of Hadîth. See Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.255, #401]

1. Injunctions Concerning Washing

Fard Kifâyah (Collective Obligation) - Washing the body prior to shrouding and the burial is obligatory, according to numerous recorded instructions given by the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam. [Sahîh Al-al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.194, #344]

Males Wash Males - As a general rule, males should take the responsibility of washing males, and females should wash females. The only exception to the rule is in the case mahrams, such as of husband and wife, or small children.

The Most Knowledgeable - Those who take responsibility of washing the dead should be the most knowledgeable of the procedures, preferably from among the deceased's immediate family members or relatives. Those with taqwa (fear of Allâh, piety) should be chosen in order to ensure proper treatment of the dead.

Ghusl (Islâmic Bath) - Those who wash the dead are not required to be in a state of purity. Consequently menstruating women may perform the washing procedure.

However, it is recommended that those who wash the dead take an Islâmic bath(Ghusl) afterwards, based on the following Hadîth:

Abû Hurayah reported that the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam said, "Whoever washes the dead should take a ghusl, and whoever carries the corpse should make wudû." [Sunan Abû Dâwûd, vol.2, p.898, #3155]

2. Method of Washing

Narrated Um 'Atiyya

Allah's Apostle came to us and we were giving a bath to his (dead) daughter and said, "Wash her three, five or more times with water and Sidr and sprinkle camphor on her at the end; and when you finish, notify me." So when we finished, we informed him and he gave us his waist-sheet and told us to shroud her in it. Aiyub said that Hafsa narrated to him a narration similar to that of Muhammad in which it was said that the bath was to be given for an odd number of times, and the numbers 3, 5 or 7 were mentioned. It was also said that they were to start with the right side and with the parts which were washed in ablution, and that Um 'Atiyya also mentioned, "We combed her hair and divided them in three braids."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 345:

Narrated 'Aisha:

The Prophet was shrouded in three pieces of cloth which were made of Suhul (a type of cotton), and neither a shirt nor a turban were used.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 361:

The body should be laid out, stripped of its garments and its joints loosened, if possible. A cloth should be placed over the private parts, between the navel and the knees (for the male and from the chest to the knees for a female) so that the washers do not look at the private area of the dead person. The stomach should be pressed to expel any remaining impurities.

After completing the wudû, the woman's hair should be undone if it was braided and the hair thoroughly washed. A rag or cloth should be used to wash the body and the washing should begin with the places on the right side of the body washed during wudû.

The body should be washed a minimum of three times and the water should have some cleaning agent in it, like soap or disinfectant. The final rinsing should have some perfume in it, such as camphor or the like.

The body should then be dried and the hair combed out. In the case of women the hair should be plaited into three braids, one from the front and two from the sides and placed behind her head.

Exceptions: The Pilgrim ... In the case of a person who dies in a state of ihrâm, perfume should not be used in washing his or her body.

3. The Martyr

In the case of the martyr (shahîd), his or her body should not be washed at all but be buried as it is.

Narrated Jabir:

The Prophet said, "Bury them (i.e. martyrs) with their blood." (that was) On the day of the Battle of Uhud. He did not get them washed.

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 430:

4. Injunctions Concerning the Shroud

Shrouding the body is obligatory, based on the commands of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam to do so. The body should be shrouded immediately after it is washed and dried.

Narrated 'Aisha

The Prophet (p.b.u.h) said, "Don't abuse the dead, because they have reached the result of what they forwarded."

The shroud or its cost should be taken from the wealth left behind of the deceased if there is enough money to purchase garments, which can cover all the body.

The shroud should be sufficient to cover the whole body, if not, those preparing the body should supply a proper shroud.

If the number of dead is great or the cloth used for shrouding is insufficient for all the bodies, more than one body may be wrapped in the same shroud at a time.

The number of sheets used to wrap the body may be as few as one sheet. It could also be two sheets. The preferable number is generally considered to be three sheets, based on the fact that the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam was shrouded in three. However, since the use of one or two sheets were suggested and approved by the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam himself, the companions choice of three sheets cannot be considered more preferable than two or one. There is no difference between the man and woman in the number of sheets used. The Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam did not specify a particular number for women and another for men, as is commonly held among Muslims today.

The preferable color is white. It is also recommended that the cloth or at least one of the sheets be striped.

It is recommended that the shroud be perfumed with incense thrice, except in the case of the muhrim, as was previously mentioned.

Spending large sums of money on the shroud the way non-Muslims compete with each other in buying the most expensive coffins, is strictly forbidden in Islâm. The sheets should be ordinary cloth, preferably cotton and not synthetics, so that it decomposes quickly along with the body, and the number of sheets should not exceed three.

STEPS OF SHROUDING:

The winding sheets should be spread out one on the top of the other the largest one first. The deceased, covered with a sheet, is lifted and laid on his back on the winding sheets. Some scent or perfume may be put on those parts of the body upon which one rests during prostration that is the forehead, nose, hands, knees, and feet.

If it is possible the deceased's left hand should be placed on his chest, then put his right hand on the left hand like the way in the (or they may be left on the side.) (Salat, Prayer).

The edge of the top sheet is folded over the deceased right side, then the other edge over his left side. Then the second sheet should be folded the same way. The third and the largest sheet should be treated the same way.

These sheets should be fastened with a piece of cloth {Tie ropes}, one above the head another under the feet, and one around the body.

SHROUDING

Two short ties for tying the ends of the shroud

1. Place center tie under here

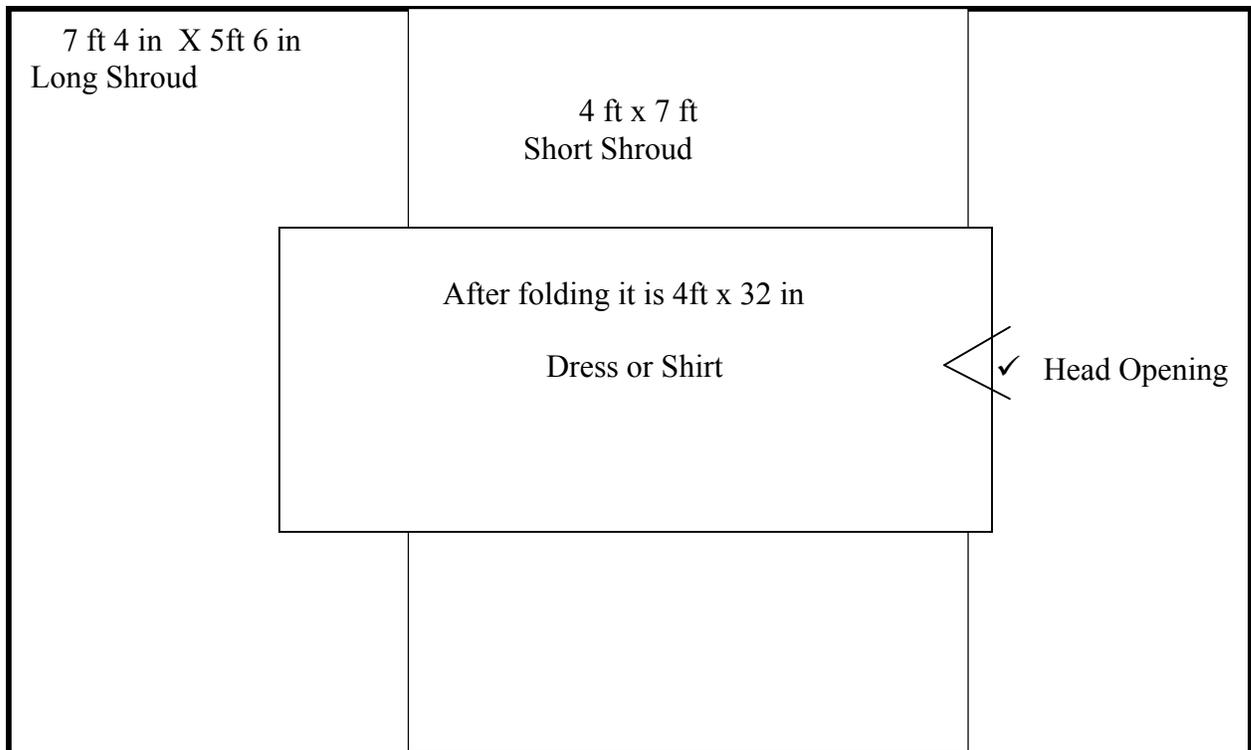

Place ties on table first this one in the middle and the two short ties on each end.

2. Then place the Long shroud on top of the ties.

3. Place the Short shroud on top of the Long shroud.

4. Place the Dress or shirt on top of the two Shrouds fold the shirt back so that the head of the deceased is at the head opening and it can be raised and placed over the body.

5. Injunctions Concerning the Funeral Procession

Following The Bier - To follow a Muslims bier is among the obligatory rights due to every Muslim from all Muslims who witness his or her funeral procession.

Method of following The Bier - There are two basic ways of following the bier. Both ways were done by the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam, but he favored the second method by indicating that it's reward was greater.

1. Following it from the family's home until the funeral prayer is made for the deceased.
2. Following it from the family's home until the body has been buried.

The Participation of Women - The virtue of following the bier is basically for men alone. Women were not encouraged to take part based on:

Narrated Um 'Atiyya:

We were forbidden to accompany funeral processions but not strictly.

Volume 2, Book 23, Number 368:

The Dirge - Following the bier with wailing, chants, dirges, burning incense etc., are all forbidden and considered bidah (religious innovations). The way of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam and his companions was to maintain silence while walking with the bier.

Narrated 'Abdullah bin 'Umar :

Sad bin 'Ubada became sick and the Prophet along with 'Abdur Rahman bin 'Auf, Sad bin Abi Waqqas and 'Abdullah bin Masud visited him to enquire about his health. When he came to him, he found him surrounded by his household and he asked, "Has he died?" They said, "No, O Allah's Apostle." The Prophet wept and when the people saw the weeping of Allah's Apostle (p.b.u.h) they all wept. He said, "Will you listen? Allah does not punish for shedding tears, nor for the grief of the heart but he punishes or bestows His Mercy because of this." He pointed to his tongue and added, "The deceased is punished for the wailing of his relatives over him." 'Umar used to beat with a stick and throw stones and put dust over the faces (of those who used to wail over the dead).

Haste in carrying the Bier - The pallbearers are required to walk quickly from the deceased house to the Masjid, and from the Masjid to the graveyard.

Accompanying The Bier - Those walking with the bier are allowed to walk in front, behind, or on either side of it, while those riding should be behind it.

Standing For The Bier –

Narrated 'Amir bin Rabi'a:

The Prophet said, "If any one of you see a funeral procession and he is not going along with it, then he should stand and remain standing till he gets behind it, or it leaves him behind, or the coffin is put down before it goes ahead of him . "

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 395:

Narrated Abu Said Al-Khudri

The Prophet said, "When you see a funeral procession, you should stand up, and whoever accompanies it should not sit till the coffin is put down."

A funeral procession passed in front of us and the Prophet stood up and we too stood up. We said, 'O Allah's Apostle! This is the funeral procession of a Jew.' He said, "Whenever you see a funeral procession, you should stand up."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 397:

Narrated 'Abdur Rahman bin Abi Laila:

Sahl bin Hunaif and Qais bin Sad were sitting in the city of Al-Qadisiya. A funeral procession passed in front of them and they stood up. They were told that funeral procession was of one of the inhabitants of the land i.e. of a non-believer, under the protection of Muslims. They said, "A funeral procession passed in front of the Prophet and he stood up. When he was told that it was the coffin of a Jew, he said, "Is it not a living being (soul)?"

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 399:

Narrated Abu Huraira:

that Allah's Apostle (p.b.u.h) said, "Whoever attends the funeral procession till he offers the funeral prayer for it, will get a reward equal to one Qirat, and whoever accompanies it till burial, will get a reward equal to two Qirats." It was asked, "What are two Qirats?" He replied, "Like two huge mountains."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 410:

The Funeral Prayer

The performance of salâtul-janâzah (the funeral prayer) is considered fard kifâyah (collective duty of the Muslim community). If someone is buried without it being performed, the whole community is held responsible, but as long as some gather and perform it, the obligation is removed from the community as a whole.

Exceptions: Children below the Age of Puberty

A child born dead or aborted after the fourth month, or one that dies before reaching puberty, does not have to have a funeral prayer because the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam did not do so for his own son.

A child aborted before the fourth month, if the child was stillborn before the fourth month, there is no funeral prayer for it, since it was not considered living in the human sense that it has a soul which may be prayed for. This ruling is based on the Hadîth related by ibn Mas'ûd, in which the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam was quoted as saying,

"Verily the creation of each one of you comes together in his mother's stomach for forty days, then he becomes a leech-like clot for a similar period, then he becomes a clump of flesh for a similar period, then an angel is sent to him and the angel blows his soul into him." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.8, p.387, #593 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.4, p.1391, # 6390]

Salâtal-Janâzah

The Martyr (Shahîd) - Salâtal-Janâzah is not required for one who dies or is killed while fighting for the cause of Islâm. Such an individual can be buried without salâtal-janâzah. However, the funeral prayer may be made for martyrs, since the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam did perform salâtal-janâzah for those who died in battle on other occasions.

An Executed Criminal - One who voluntarily confesses to a crime whose punishment is death should be prayed for, since such a confession is an unparalleled form of true repentance.

The Corrupt - The funeral prayer should be held even for those who were known to be corrupt, like alcoholics, drug addicts, adulterers, and those who abandoned prayer and zakat, while acknowledging that they are compulsory duties. However it is preferable that the scholars and the pious do not join in the funeral prayer for them as a punishment for them and deterrent for others like them. It was the practice of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam not to pray for those who committed major sins, although he did allow others to do so. [Muslim, vol.2, p.464, #2133]

Debtors - In the beginning, the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam refused to lead the funeral prayer for those who died leaving behind debts and no means to pay them. This was done to emphasize the importance of clearing one's debts from the charity (sadaqah) which he received. [Muslim, vol.3, 855, #3944]

Burial without Salâh - It is allowable to perform the funeral prayer by the grave of someone who was buried without having salâtul-janâzah performed for him. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.192, #339, p.228, #407 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.453, #2084]

Salâtul-Ghâ'ib - If someone dies in a country or situation where there is no one to perform the salâtal-janâzah for him, it is permitted for a group of Muslims to make a funeral prayer for him in his absence. This prayer is known as salâtul-ghâ'ib. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.191, # 337]

Disbelievers - The performance of funeral prayers or even seeking forgiveness or mercy for those who die in open disbelief or nifâq (subtle disbelief) is strictly forbidden, based on the following instruction of Allâh in the Qur'ân:

"Never pray for any of them who die, and do not stand by their graves, for verily they have disbelieved in Allâh and His Messenger and died in sin."
[Sûrah at-Tawbah (9):84; Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, pp.201-2, #359; Sahîh Muslim, vol.4, pp.1456-7, #6680; Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.6, p.158, #197]

The Jamâ'ah (Congregation)

In Congregation - Salâtul-janâzah, like the five daily compulsory prayers, must be performed in congregation. This was the only way that the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam and his companions did it. The Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam was also reported to have said, "Pray as you saw me pray." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.1, p.345, #604]

Three Rows - It is preferable that those behind the Imâm form at least three rows, (there can be more than three) as this was the Sunnah when the number of worshippers was insufficient to fill the Masjid.

"Any Muslim who dies and three rows of Muslims make salâh for him, will be forgiven." [Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, p.99, with support of the following Hadîth: Dâwûd, vol.2, p.899, #3160]

Two Men - If there is only one man besides the imâm, he should pray behind the imâm and not beside him as he would in the case of all other salâhs. [Collected by al-Bayhaqî, al-Hâkim, and at-Tabarânî and authenticated in Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, p.100]

The Imâm - The amîr or his assistant has more right to lead the funeral prayer than the deceased's walî. If neither the amîr nor his representative is present, the one who has the most knowledge of Al-Qur'ân should lead the funeral prayer, even if he is a child. Knowledge is not just memorization, but that which benefits. [Collected by al-Bayhaqî and authenticated in Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, pp.100-01; Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.5, pp.413-4, #595]

Location of Prayer:

Inside the Masjid - The common practice today of holding the funeral prayer inside the Masjid is based on the occasional practice of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam. [See Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, pp.460-1, #2124]

Outside the Masjid - It is however, preferable to have a place (musallâ) set aside for the funeral prayer outside the Masjid, as this was the usual practice of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam. [See Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.191, #337, Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.452, #2077]

Between the Graves - It is forbidden for salâtul-janâzah to be said for the dead between the graves, according to the following hadîth narrated by Anas ibn Mâlik, in which he said:

"The Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam forbade the performance of the salâh for the dead in between the graves." [Collected by at-Tabarânî and authenticated in Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, p.108, #72]

The Method of Prayer:

Position of The Imâm - The imâm should stand, facing the qiblah, behind the head of the dead man and behind the middle of the dead woman. [Sunan Abû Dâwûd, vol.2, pp.907-8, #3188 authenticated in Sahîh Sunan Abî Dâwûd, vol.2, p.615, #2735]

Number of Takbîrs - It is possible to do either four, five, six, seven or nine takbîrs, as all of them are recorded in authentic hadîths and acts of the Prophets companions.

Four Takbîrs: - Abû Hurayrah related that the Messenger of Allâh sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam announced the Najâshî's death on the same day which he died and went out with them to a place designated for large congregational prayers. He arranged them in rows and pronounced four takbîrs during the funeral prayer. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.227, #404; Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.452, #2077]

Raising the Hands - It is permissible to either raise one's hands with each takbîr, or to do so only for the first takbîr. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.228, chapter 55]

Placing the Hands - The right hand should be placed on the left on the chest, as in regular prayer, since there are no authentic hadîths to indicate otherwise. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.1, pp.396-7, #707]

Recitation - Immediately after the first takbîr, the chapter al-Fâtihah should be read, as recorded in authentic hadîths. The only thing which should be read prior to the Fâtihah is the "Refuge" and the "basmalah." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.236, #419; Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.1, p.397, #710; Sahîh Muslim, vol.1, p.219, #786]

Prayer for the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam - Immediately after the second takbîr, the prayer for the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam should be made according to one of the various patterns used in regular salâh. [Sahîh Sunan an-Nasâ'î, vol.2, p.428, #1880; Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.4, p.385, #589]

Du'â for the Dead - After each of the remaining two or more takbîrs, sincere prayers should be made for the dead, their relatives and the living. Nothing from the Qur'ân should be recited following these remaining takbîrs. [Dâwûd, vol.2, pp.616-7, #2740]

Taslîm - There are two ways by which the closing greetings of the funeral prayer may be given [Collected by al-Bayhaqî and at-Tabarânî, authenticated in Ahkâmul-Janâ'iz, p.127, #83]:

either by taslîm to the right side only, as in Abû Hurayrah's hadîth;
or by saying; taslîm to both sides, as in Ibn Mas'ûd's hadîth;

Forbidden Times:

There are three times in the day when salâtul-janâzah or any other salâh is strictly forbidden except in the case of an emergency. These are the times during which the sun worshippers used to perform their rites of worship. Thus, these became forbidden times in order to avoid any resemblance to them and to prevent non-Muslims from thinking that Muslims might also be worshipping the sun.

Uqbah ibn Amir said, "There are three times in which the Messenger of Allâh sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam used to forbid us from making salâh or burying our dead:

When the sun is rising until [the disc of the sun] is clearly above the horizon.
When the sun reaches the middle of the sky until it declines.
When the sun is setting until it [completely] disappears."

[Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.395, #1811 & p.906, #3186]

The Burial

Injunctions Regarding Burial:

Burying Everyone - Muslims are obliged to bury everyone who dies in areas under their jurisdiction.

Muslims Buried Separately - Muslims should not be buried beside non-Muslims, nor non-Muslims beside Muslims; each should have their own separate graveyard.

Burial in the Graveyard - It was the Prophet's sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam Sunnah to bury the dead in the graveyard of Madînah, known as al-Baqî. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.156, #280]

Depth of the Grave - The grave should be dug deep and wide, and be well-prepared. [Sunan Ibn-i-Mâjah, vol.2, p.425, #1560]

Shape of the Grave - The grave may be dug straight down (shaqq) with a burial chamber in the middle or with a niche (lahd) to create the burial chamber on the side. However, in both cases, a burial chamber is created from the earth, and sealed with bricks of unbaked clay. Both methods were practiced in the time of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam. However, the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam favored the lahd style. [Sunan Ibn-i-Mâjah, vol.2, p.423, #1557]

Number of Bodies in a grave - Two or more bodies may be buried in the same grave. This may be due to the large number of dead resulting from a natural calamity or plague, or dead may be from the same family. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.239, #427]

Injunctions Concerning Placing The Body In The Grave:

Men and Not Women - It is preferable that only men should be responsible for placing the dead body inside the grave, even if the dead person is a woman. This is due to the fact that it has been the custom among Muslims from the time of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam until today. The process requires a certain amount of strength, and men are generally stronger than women.

Near Relatives - The blood relatives of the dead have more right to place the body in the grave, based on the general meaning of the following Qur'ânic verse:

"Blood relatives have more right to one another in Allâh's scripture."

[Chapter al-Anfâl (8):75]

Narrated 'Aisha:

The Prophet used to love to start doing things from the right side whenever possible, in performing ablution, putting on his shoes, and combing his hair. (Al-Ash'ath said: The Prophet used to do so in all his affairs.)

Volume 7, Book 65, Number 292:

With this hadith in mind: Place the dead body in the grave on its right side with the face of the dead person towards the qiblah (Makkah).

Du'â - While the body is being lowered into the grave it is recommended that the worshippers recite: "With the Name Allah, and according to the Millah (belief and religion) of the Messenger of Allah, may Allah praise and venerate him and grant him perfect peace. Allah, surely our companion has come to You, leaving the world behind his/her back and he/she is very poor for what You have. O Allah, give him/her confidence when he/she will be asked, and don't try him/her in his/her tomb, which is above his/her ability, and join him/her with our Holy Prophet, the praises, and veneration and peace be upon him." This is to be repeated until the tomb is closed. The open grave is then filled in, another dua can be offered for the deceased, and the people depart.

Throwing Dirt on the Grave - It is recommended for those near the grave to throw three double-handfuls of dirt into the grave after the burial chamber has been sealed. To help bring closure.

After Burial

Narrated Anas:

The Prophet said, "When a human being is laid in his grave and his companions return and he even hears their foot steps, two angels come to him and make him sit and ask him: What did you use to say about this man, Muhammad? He will say: I testify that he is Allah's slave and His Apostle. Then it will be said to him, 'Look at your place in the Hell-Fire. Allah has given you a place in Paradise instead of it.' " The Prophet added, "The dead person will see both his places. But a non-believer or a hypocrite will say to the angels, 'I do not know, but I used to say what the people used to say! It will be said to him, 'Neither did you know nor did you take the guidance (by reciting the Quran).' Then he will be hit with an iron hammer between his two ears, and he will cry and that cry will be heard by whatever approaches him except human beings and jinns."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 422:

Narrated Al-Bara' bin 'Azib :

The Prophet (p.b.u.h) said, "When a faithful believer is made to sit in his grave, then (the angels) come to him and he testifies that none has the right to be worshipped but Allah and Muhammad is Allah's Apostle. And that corresponds to Allah's statement: Allah will keep firm those who believe with the word that stands firm . . . (14.27).

Al Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 450:

Raising the grave - It is recommended that the earth of the grave be slightly raised, no more than a palm's width, so as to be higher than the surrounding ground. This is in order that it be easily distinguishable and not disrespected. In time the raised portion will naturally shrink as the earth settles.

Marking the Grave - Placing a stone or something similar, without inscriptions, to identify the location of the grave is also from the Sunnah, the marker will help people later locate the grave in order to bury other family members in the same vicinity.

Structures over Graves - The building of any kind of structures over graves is strictly prohibited. [Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.459, #2116]

The duas of other Muslims on behalf of the dead will benefit the dead, by the permission of Allâh.

"The prayer of a Muslim for his Muslim brother in his absence will be answered. As long as he prays for the good of his brother, there is an angel assigned near his head who says: Amen, and may the same be for you." [Sahîh Muslim, vol.4, p.14 29, #6590]

Fasting - Fasts missed by dead persons may be done on their behalf by their close relatives. The fasts may be from Ramadan or from oaths (nathar).

Aishah quoted Allâh's Messenger sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam as saying, "Whoever died owing fasts, his guardian should fast on his behalf." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.3, p.99, #173 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.556, #2553]

Planting Twigs on Graves –

The companions of the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam and the early generation of Muslim scholars did not practice this ritual. It is however, authentically narrated that the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam did, on one single occasion, stick a palm leaf in a grave. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, pp.249-50, #443 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.1, pp.171-2, #575]

Narrated Ibn Abbas: The Prophet once passed by two graves, and those two persons (in the graves) were being tortured. He said, "They are being tortured not for a great thing (to avoid). One of them never saved himself from being soiled with his urine, while the other was going about with calumnies (to make enmity between friends). He then took a green leaf of a date-palm tree split it into two pieces and fixed one on each grave. The people said, "O Allah's Apostle! Why have you done so?" He replied, "I hope that their punishment may be lessened till they (the leaf) become dry."

Sahih Al-Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 443:

Visiting Graves

Visiting Non-Muslim Graves - Muslims are allowed to visit the graves of disbelievers for reflection. However, praying for those who die in a state of Hypocrisy is totally prohibited.

"Whether you (O Muhammad sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam) ask forgiveness for them (hypocrites) or ask not forgiveness for them ... (and even) if you ask seventy times for their forgiveness ... Allâh will not forgive them, because they have disbelieved in Allâh and His Messenger (Muhammad sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam). And Allâh guides not those people who are Fâsiqûn (rebellious, disobedient to Allâh)." [The Noble Qur'ân 9:80]

"And never (O Muhammad) pray (funeral prayer) for any of them (hypocrites) who dies, nor stand at his grave. Certainly they disbelieved in Allâh and His Messenger, and died while they were Fâsiqûn (rebellious, - disobedient to Allâh and His Messenger)." [The Noble Qur'ân 9:84]

The Charity Of Children - Parents will benefit from whatever righteous deeds their children do, without decreasing the reward of their children's good deeds. A righteous child is considered to be part of the parent's earnings. [Sunan Abû Dâwûd, vol.2, p.1002, #3521. Sahîh Muslim, vol.3, p.866, #4002 and Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.266, #470]

Visiting graves is recommended in Islâm in order to help the living reflect on the shortness of this life and the closeness of the next. [See Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.463, #2131]

Annual Visits to Graves - Visiting graves on the anniversary of a person's death, or at the time of special annual festivals of the deceased is forbidden. Also, setting out on journeys to visit graves was specifically forbidden by the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam. This practice forms the basis of idolatrous pilgrimages in other religions. [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.1, p.157, #281 and Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.699, #3218]

Women Visiting Graves...

The recommendation to visit graves is general and includes women, just as the earlier prohibition included them without any special mention. Furthermore, women share in the benefits of visiting the graves.

When the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam found a woman crying in the graveyard, he did not chase her out of the graveyard, but told her not to cry. Anas ibn Mâlik related that once the Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam passed by a woman crying beside a grave and said to her, "Fear Allâh and be patient." [Sahîh al-Bukhârî, vol.2, p.208, #372; Sahîh Muslim, vol.2, p.439, #2013]

However, frequent visitation of graves by women is not permissible. Hassân ibn Thâbit narrated that Allâh's Messenger sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam cursed women who frequently visit graves.

Perhaps the reason for not frequenting the graves is the possible negative results of such visits like:

The loss of some of their husband's rights due to their frequent absences from the home,
The unnecessary public exposure of women, Increased depression leading to wailing and other forbidden expressions of grief.

Speaking about the Deceased

Narrated Anas bin Malik,

A funeral procession passed and the people praised the deceased. The Prophet sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam said, "It has been affirmed to him." Then another funeral procession passed and the people spoke badly of the deceased. The Prophet said, "It has been affirmed to him." 'Umar bin Al-Khattab asked (Allâh's Apostle sallallâhu 'alayhi wa sallam), "What has been affirmed?" He replied, "You praised this, so Paradise has been affirmed to him; and you spoke badly of this, so Hell has been affirmed to him. You people are Allâh's witnesses on earth." [Al Bukhari Volume 2, Book 23, Number 448:,]
